FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

If I switch to IGS Energy, will my utility be upset?

No. ComEd offers a Customer Choice Program specifically to give you the freedom to choose an energy supplier. IGS Energy is an electricity supplier approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission and ComEd. ComEd will continue to deliver your electricity, respond to all service calls, and send you a monthly bill.

If I switch to IGS Energy, do I have to schedule an appointment for connection?

Will my service be interrupted?

No. ComEd will continue to deliver your electricity, just as before.

If I choose IGS Energy as my supplier, will I receive a separate bill from IGS Energy?

No. Your bill will come directly from ComEd, but it will now show that your electricity is supplied by IGS Energy.

What happens at the end of my contract?

After your fixed rate agreement expires, your contract will renew at a variable price on a month-to-month basis. As the end of your term is approaching, we will send you a reminder notice, along with any new products that may be available to you at that time.

Why should I do this?

With IGS Energy's fixed rate plan, you know the price you will pay will be less than the filed ComEd electricity supply rate (effective 8/20/2011) of 7.733¢ per kWh October 2011 through May 2012 for residential non-space heat customers.
